Means the area bounded by the Schuylkill River to the east, Spring Garden Street from the Schuylkill River to 40th Street, 40th Street from Spring Garden to Powelton Avenue, Powelton Avenue from 40th Street to Market Street, Market Street from Powelton Avenue to 50th Street, 50th Street from Market Street to Springfield Avenue, Springfield Avenue from 50th Street to 49th Street, 49th Street from Springfield Avenue to Woodland Avenue, Woodland Avenue from 49th Street to 45th Street, 45th Street from Woodland Avenue extended to the Schuylkill River, including all parts of the boundary streets.

Section 2. Permit Fees for Breaking Streets and Footways Under Code Section 11-203.

A. Fees for permits for breaking streets and footways pursuant to section 11-203(7) of the Code are as follows:

1. Paved Street -- $550 for the first two square yards plus $145 for each additional square yard or portion thereof. If, after breaking a street, a plumber finds a void underneath the street, the plumber is responsible for immediately reporting the void to the District Highway Yard in which the ditch is located. The Highway District supervisor will verify the void. After verification, the Streets Department will not assess the plumber the additional square yardage. Plumbers failing to report voids will be assessed the extra square yardage.

2. Unpaved Street -- $50 per opening

3. Footway -- $25 per opening

B. The permit fees required under Section 2 (A) reimburse the Streets Department its cost for restoring street openings . The Streets Department Regulations Governing Street Openings, Excavations and Restoration require a developer involved in a private development project which contains a combination of one or more elements set forth in A and B to mill and pave the adjacent roadway. The combination of items listed in A and B that trigger milling and paving of the adjacent roadway are: A) (i) the disturbance of more than 40% of the roadway or (ii) the installation of an average of at least three utility connections and B) (i) new construction or substantial improvement of six or more lots, or (ii) new construction or substantial improvement of 100 linear feet, or (iii) restoration of a structure that abuts a historic street. The developer may choose to pay the restoration fee in Section 2 (A) above for utility connection ditches on the development project and the Streets Department will restore those ditches. Alternatively, the developer may choose to restore the ditches. If the latter choice is selected, the developer must inform the Streets Department of this choice during the permit application process. At the time the developer is ready to open the street for utility connection purposes, the developer must instruct the plumber on the job to contact the Streets Department. The Streets Department will issue the plumber a waiver letter to be submitted to the PWD Plumber Permit counter. The plumber will be issued an inspection permit for $60 per ditch instead of the $550 permit listed under Section 2 (A). The Streets Department must be contacted to schedule an inspector to be on site prior to and during the concrete pour. When the final restoration is complete, the Streets Department must again be contacted so that an inspector may inspect the completed work. Any defect found by the inspector must be remedied by the plumber and/or Developer as determined by the Streets Department.
